There are two main texts that employers might wish to refer to if they have a responsibility for young people of nursery school age and beyond. These are:

1. The Statutory Framework for the Early Years Foundation Stage.

and

2. DfEE publication: A good practice Guide: Guidance on First Aid for Schools

These publications give employers sufficient information and assistance towards helping them decide what kind of First Aid cover they require in relation to their own work place environments after having undertaken appropriate risk assessments.

The 2 hr C.P.R. Course (Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation) is aimed at those persons who need to know how to undertake this life saving skill specifically for infants and children in their working environment.

The course shows the different techniques required for resuscitating both infants and children.

It is recommended that this course is taught to no more than 12 candidates in any 2hr session
